Armond Williams Named Horizon League Men's Basketball Player Of The Week

Junior earns award for second time this season.

Jan. 27, 2003

Chicago, Ill. - For the second time this season, UIC junior forward Armond Williams has earned Horizon League Player of Week honors, it was announced Monday morning.

Williams helped UIC extend its season-best winning streak to five games last week, averaging 24.0 points, 11.0 rebounds, 1.5 steals and 1.0 blocks in a pair of Flames victories while shooting 72% from the field.

The Austin High School product opened the week with a monster performance in UIC's win over city-rival Loyola. Williams tabbed his fourth career double-double with personal bests of 30 points and 15 rebounds. He also tied the Horizon League season-high for field goals in a game with 12.

On Saturday, Williams then helped the Flames avoid Youngstown State's upset bid, tallying 18 points (6-of-9 FG), seven rebounds and two blocks.

For the season, Williams now ranks in the top-10 in the league in both rebounding (7.2 rpg/5th) and scoring (13.3 ppg/10th). He also ranks second in field goal percentage (65%).

This is the second time Williams has won the award this season, last earning the honor on Jan. 6.
