

Athletic Ticket Office Makes Limited Number Of Floor Seats Available For Upcoming Men's Basketball Season

Variety of season ticket packages now on sale to general public for the 2007-08 campaign.

Aug. 16, 2007

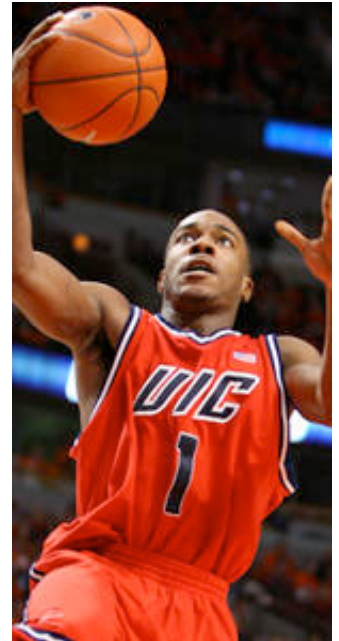

Chicago, Ill. - Fans of the UIC men's basketball team have the rare opportunity this season to get an up close view of all the action as for the first time in six years the Athletic Ticket Office is making a limited number of full season scholarship floor seats available for sale to new season ticket customers.

UIC wants its most avid supporters to have the best seats in the UIC Pavilion for every three-pointer, blocked shot and buzzer-beater this year. These cushioned seats, just inches from the hardwood, will go fast, so call the ticket office at 312-413-8421 to secure a full season scholarship floor seat today.

The 2007-08 campaign kicks off with UIC hosting in-state rival Bradley on Nov. 10 and also includes dates with Loyola, Butler, Milwaukee and Valparaiso. The entire UIC men's basketball schedule with finalized dates and times will be released officially in the coming weeks.

Other season ticket packages are also on sale now to the general public. Pepsi 6-Pack partial season ticket plans, lower level full season tickets, as well as a discounted family plan of lower level season tickets are available.

For more information, call the UIC Flames Athletic Ticket Office at 312-413-8421 or by visiting the ticket link at uicflames.com.

Junior Josh Mayo